Building For Tomorrow

THE story of KAYS LIMITED is primarily the story of a man — his ideals and the fulfilment of those ideals. Some 40 years ago, a small wholesale house was established in Winnipeg by Hyman Kay, a young man. From this small enterprise the firm of Kays Limited was incorporated in the year 1923.

From the very beginning of his business career, Mr. Kay was imbued with an intense desire to bring to the independent merchants of Western Canada a complete service in dry goods and clothing that would enable them to best fulfill the needs of the community in which they served. He is known far and wide as a perfectionist, and his constant striving to achieve this perfection in the services of his organization has won for Kays Limited the confidence, good-will, and high esteem from both customer and supplier. This today makes Kays Limited one of the leading factors in their field in Western Canada.

Our President and founder speaks constantly of "GOOD-WILL"; to him good-will is paramount and the greatest asset of his business. This has been confirmed by the continually growing roster of the firm's customers and further by the unswerving loyalty of his employees. From his employees Mr. Kay always demanded the same perfection in customer relationship which has permeated his own activities for 40 years. In return the employees of Kays Limited and their employer enjoy a fraternal relationship such as does not exist in many commercial organizations today. Their services are appreciated and rewarded with the goal sought by every man - "SECURITY". Bonuses, Group Insurance, Cost of Living Bonuses, and in 1948, to commemorate the 25th Anniversary of Kays Limited, a generous Pension Plan for all employees was instituted.

In the broader fields of philanthropy and all humanitarian projects his unselfish participation is note-worthy. Shunning publicity which is characteristic of his modesty, Mr. Kay has always extended a helping hand to those in need. His patriotism to Canada and keen interest in good citizenship are significant in the esteem in which he is regarded not only by his business and communal associates but by all who know him.

Kays Limited may be growing older in years, but is youthful, vital, and vigorous in its outlook for tomorrow. New plans are constantly being formulated, new services inaugurated, new and finer merchandise arriving daily from the markets of the world. Efficiency is the by-word of our internal organization, and to our customers we shall always be, "THE HOUSE OF FRIENDLY SERVICE."
